Venezuelan-Appalachian folk fusion duo

Reimagining their two musical traditions, Llanera superstar Larry Bellorín (Venezuela) and Latingrass GRAMMY-nominee Joe Troop (North Carolina) play harp, banjo, fiddle, cuatro, maracas, guitar, upright bass, and sing to inspire joy and unity. Their engaging bilingual program includes storytelling, humor, singalongs, and dancing.

Larry & Joe were recently featured on PBS's The Express Way with Dulé Hill and NPR's Here & Now Also check out their Kennedy Center debut
